The SLAA Basic Text is now available in a Kindle format on Amazon and it is also available at I-Tunes for I-Books. Both issues are $9.99. The electronic version of the book is not available on the FWS web site, however, an audio format of the Basic Text is available in a MP3 format and The Journal is available electronically for down load on the FWS web site: <http://store.slaafws.org>

Institutions' Outreach Committee

We have had reports from FWS that they are forming their own treatment center/prison outreach committee to reach out to those in treatment or are incarcerated. GDVI is encouraged to receive these reports. GDVI has created a committee that would be committed to working with the incarcerated and those in treatment. If any GDVI members would like to join the Outreach Committee please contact: info@slaadvi.org. If you are willing to chair the group, we would welcome hearing from you. This committee is an important aspect of recovery for those that are in treatment for another addiction or incarcerated, many of whom are not aware that sex and love addiction has impacted their lives.
